There are said to be no vacant houses in Baker City, and times are increasingly active

Rev S Bowers, of Salem has so far recovered from his late illness as to be around again

Work has been commenced on the new stone building for Virtue the Baker City quartz man, banker and centennial commissioner

It is reported that executive clemency has been extended to Wm McIntire who, for several years, has been in the penitentiary for killing Keeler at the Dalles

Rev D Rutledge, for many years a minister in this State is now engaged in laboring in behalf of the Freedmen's Aid Society in the Southern States

The Governor's office at Salem, has been renovated and refurnished and it is said to be the intention to fix it up in a comfortable and reasonably elegant style

A sociable is to be given for the benefit of the firemen of Salem this (Friday) evening. All the Chinamen in the town have bought tickets, or the Statesman is mistaken, for it says so.

A gentleman at Baker City writing on the 22d inst, says "The weather is clear and warm, roads drying rapidly, plowing and gardening are in order in the town and country and Placer mining in the mining camps.

Our Baker City correspondent under date of the 22d says "The Connor Creek gold lode owned by Messrs Wood, Brooke, Hoover and two other gentlemen has been conditionally sold to San Francisco capitalists for $40 000"

Rev D B Hayer writes to the Advocate from Goose Lake Mission, March 16th "We are having some prosperity on this Mission. At our last quarterly meeting there was a very large congregation on Sabbath, for this place. The Church is revived"

There is a strong effort being made by the friends of Methodism in different parts of the State to relieve the burden of indebtedness from the Church at Empire City. There are subscription papers open at the Advocate office in Portland on which a considerable sum has already been obtained. Who will be next to help the good work?

Deeds to State lands are made out at the office of the Agent of the State School Land Commissioners, for the following parties. Heirs of Patrick Raleigh, Yamhill county; Charles Roork, Clackamas; Edward Failing, Multnomah, J N. T Miller, Jackson, John Swick, Washington, S Howe, Douglas, J H Gauntlett, Curry, H Javins, Clackamas, G J Gray, Linn, Josiah Failing, Multnomah.

In the Circuit Court at Albany, on Thursday, Albert Bond, held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, the grand jury returned not a true bill. John Sumpter, charged with malicious injury to personal property, pleaded guilty, and, in consideration of his youth, was fined only $50. In the case of the State vs Levi Livingstone, the indictment being defective, defendant was remanded to jail. The case of Mudge vs. McAlister, civil action to recover money, was on trial

Winter Along the Northern Pacific Railroad

Mr W Milnor Roberts, Chief Engineer of the Northern Pacific Railroad, in a letter dated February 27, 1873, makes the following authentic statement

On the finished line across Minnesota, from Duluth to Fargo, the road has been run all winter with remarkable regularity and freedom from snow difficulties. There has been less necessary delay on the Northern Pacific road this winter than upon the roads east of it to Chicago and New York. Considerable snow has fallen in eastern Minnesota this winter, but there has not been an unusual amount in the western part of the State and across Dakota. The occasional snow fences opposite the excavations have served their purpose well

In common with the rest of the country and with Europe Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and the entire Northwest have had a most unusual winter season. There have been some days of very severe weather, but it was quite as cold about the same period in most of the Eastern States

In January, at Duluth, the thermometer ranged as follows during the middle of the day. Average, 12° above zero, lowest on the 9th, when it was 6° below zero. the highest, 22° above, on the 20th. Absolute lowest, early in the morning of the 28th, 25° below zero. At Duluth, in February, to the 10th, average, 20° above, lowest, 1° below, highest, 41° above zero, absolute lowest, early in the morning of the 2d 17° below.

At Fargo on the Western border of Minnesota, in the open prairie of Red River Valley, the range of the thermometer in January was as follows average, 6° above, lowest, 16° below, highest, 31° above zero, absolute lowest, early in the morning of the 9th, 30° blow zero. At Fargo, in February, to the 15th the average was 11° above, lowest, 10° below highest, 33° above, absolute lowest, on the 1st, 10° below zero

In the Rocky mountains, east of the main divide, at Bozeman, near the highest elevation of the Northern Pacific route, from the 5th to the 25th of January inclusive, the average temperature was 36° above zero, lowest, 22 above, highest, 44° above, absolute lowest, early in the morning of the 23d, 16° above zero. It is noticeable how much milder the weather has been at Bozeman, near Fort Ellis, and about 5,000 feet above the sea, than in Minnesota and Wisconsin, near the level of the lakes. The farmers of western Montana began their spring plowing in the latter part of January, the winter in that section being considered over, and the roads were dry and dusty

On the western slope of the Rocky Mountains in Eastern Washington Territory, the local papers state that the farmers of Walla Walla Valley were plowing their fields on the 26th of January, though the early part of the winter had been, as elsewhere, unusually cold for the region

The winter climate along the Pacific Division of our road, between the Columbia River and Puget Sound, which is in regular daily operation, may be inferred from the fact that at Portland, Oregon, the average temperature for January was 45° above zero. the highest was 58° and the lowest 31° above. Snow fell on one day, the 2d, to a depth of two and a half inches. Grass has been green throughout the winter about Puget Sound, and several varieties of flowers were in bloom out of doors in January and February

Our experience on the finished line, and authentic reports from the remainder of the route, satisfy me that the Northern Pacific Road, if completed from Lake Superior to Puget Sound, would have been kept in regular operation the entire distance last winter without difficulty

Governor Safford, of Arizona, has had excellent opportunities for becoming acquainted with the practical workings of the President's Indian policy. In his judgment

One of the most fatal mistakes made by Government in dealing with the Indians is the selection of Agents because they belong to any particular religious denomination. No doubt the purpose of the choice is good but practically it proves not good. To govern and manage wild Indians successfully, requires peculiar qualifications. An Agent should not only be honest, truthful and just to both Indians and citizens, but he should also be patient, cool and possessed of plenty of nerve. Nothing so soon destroys the confidence of Indians as to know their Agent fears them; besides it requires years of acquaintance and experience to understand the Indian character. Without this knowledge in advance, few Agents attain it in time to be successful. Nowhere can such efficient Agents be found as in the country where the Indians live

THE TERRITORIES

A R Lider, of Olympia is going to Washington City to try to collect $1 000 due him from the United States

The Olympians have been looking for the Waldron Dramatic Troupe at their city for about a week, but up to Tuesday they had not arrived

Gen W W Miller was nominated as a candidate for the office of Mayor of Olympia by a meeting of citizens of that place a few days ago

J W Sweeney has been appointed general agent for Washington Territory of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston

Alaska is not wholly a bill of expense. The revenue derived by the Government from the fur seal lease aggregated last year $317,000—a pretty good sum

Somebody put a brass button in the contribution box at an Olympia church last Sunday evening and the question now agitating the public mind in that place is, "which one of the editors did it?"

A young man at Olympia went out to serenade his lady love, the other night, and when he returned it seemed, from the appearance of his pants, that there was no one at home but the watchdog

Richard Lane, for a long time a resident of Olympia, has been adjudged insane, and sent to the Territorial Asylum. The doctors pronounced him suffering under severe mental derangement, produced by long continued use of alcoholic liquors

The ship War Hawk left Port Discovery on Wednesday night of last week, loaded, 15 days from San Francisco. Capt White will give the time made by the Dashing Wave, 23 days and some hours for the round trip, a close rub, and if he gets a good slant outside he will beat it.

Arnold, the diamond speculator, is making preparations to start from Laramie this spring, on a grand diamond expedition. He has written letters to his old out fitters, to have ready for him by the time the new grass comes forth, fifty and die and twenty five pack animals with equipments

The lighthouse tender Shubrick arrived at Port Townsend on the 20th, from the Columbia. Since leaving Astoria, she has placed an outer buoy on the Columbia bar placed a buoy on the Tillamook bar, and visited all the lighthouses north of the Columbia except Tatoosh. On her return, she will visit Tatoosh and then proceed to the Columbia, where she will be engaged in moving some buoys in the lower river

The Port Townsend Argus says "It is immaterial whether, for the present, the railroad is extended along the eastern or western side of the Sound. Whenever the ocean traffic to or from Puget Sound commences to compete with that of San Francisco—in other words, when the Northern Pacific railroad is completed across the continent and invites the business which the road was in reality built for—it will be found that Port Townsend will be the natural terminus of that trade, and it will demand and compel the construction of a railroad to this point to accommodate it. This is no visionary assertion, but one that good logic will substantiate. If the terminus of the Northern Pacific road is located on the east side of these waters (and it is likely that it will be), there is nothing in the fact that need disturb us: the penny wise and pound foolish directors of that road will be the sufferers, and not Port Townsend. Men make the Northern Pacific railroad, but God Almighty long since designed and located its ultimate terminus."

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Barnard's Cariboo Express arrived at New Westminster from Yale on the 20th, having $11,000 in treasure

It is stated that a house in the vicinity of New Westminster is haunted by the spirit of its lately deceased owner.

Ground has been broken at Victoria for some splendid Government buildings to be erected this spring and summer

The American bark Delaware with a cargo valued at $60,000 arrived at Victoria from Honolulu, on the 22d inst

A lunatic escaped from the Victoria Asylum last week, but was recaptured after running around the country awhile

A F Pemberton, Esq, who had been Police Magistrate of Victoria for 17 years gave place to his successor, Mr Elliott on the 25th instant.

The Colonist of the 23d says the sloop Alberni arrived late last night, and reports that an Indian war has broken out at Alberni, between two tribes. Two Indians have been killed and a gunboat is wanted to quell the outbreak

A respectable German named J. C Dieter, a restaurant keeper, was knocked down in his own house, at New Westminster, by two ruffians, on the evening of the 21st. The rascals then gagged him and while he lay helpless on the floor robbed his safe. They then led him to a secluded spot and beat him till they supposed him dead, and left him. Towards morning he partially recovered and crawled toward the road side where he was found after daylight. The villains who did the deed were strangers. Some think they were deserters from lumber ships at Burrard Inlet, others think they answer the description of those famous land pirates Shepley and Brown, who ravaged the coast with impunity last year. Dieter's recovery is doubtful. He was only married three weeks ago

The Colonist of the 25th says "Sometime in November last, the American bark Almatia, Capt Fries, (with Capt Pamphlet, pilot, on board,) whilst bound for Burrard Inlet to load with lumber for Melbourne, was compelled, during a gale, to cut away her masts and rigging, when near Skipjack Island, about twenty five miles from Victoria. She was towed into this harbor and refitted at a cost of several thousand dollars. About six weeks ago she was towed to Burrard Inlet, where she took in a cargo of 303,000 feet of lumber for Melbourne. On Saturday afternoon, the Almatia, with Capt Mohinnon, (pilot) on board, started for the Inlet in tow of the steamer Maude, Capt Holmes. The Gulf of Georgia was crossed safely and the steamer headed for Plumber Pass intending to come through. At midnight on Saturday, (the night being pitch-dark), Capt Holmes discovered that, instead of entering the Pass, he was running on the shore of an island lying at its entrance. The steamer sheared out of danger, but the bark struck, and although an effort, (which promised to be successful) was made to get her off, the lines 'fouled,' and the swell carried the vessel further on the beach, where she bilged. Capt Fries came to town on Sunday, and yesterday, accompanied by Mr Roderick Finlayson, Lloyd's Agent, went round in the steamer Enterprise to ascertain whether the bark could be got off"

A recent Washington dispatch says

It is but justice to those men who, like Senators Trumbull and Bayard, and Representative Banks, voted for the increased salary bill, to state their side of the question. They say their support was given to the measure simply to equalize the compensation account. Thus for instance, the members of both Houses from Oregon got $6 492 for the session, on account of mileage, those from Nevada got $3,500, from Texas, $4 000, from Louisiana, $2,500 from Arkansas, $2 400, from Kansas and Nebraska, $2 100 notwithstanding the notorious fact either that these members had railroad passes all the way, or else passed the entire session in Washington. The increase of salary bill abolishes mileage, and under this provision Senator Kelly will be required to pay $1 492 into the treasury instead of receiving $6 492 therefrom

As will be remembered, Senator Kelly declined to receive the "extra compensation" He preferred the $6,492 mileage. This is human

WASHINGTON CITY.

Senate Adjourned

WASHINGTON, March [illegible] —A committee was appointed to wait on the President and inform him that if he had no further communication to make them they were ready to adjourn. The Senate then went into executive session and continued until 1 20 P M when the doors were opened and the committee appointed to wait on the President reported that he had no further communication to make to the Senate. The usual vote of thanks to the Vice President was adopted and at 4 P M the Senate adjourned without day

An Interesting Question

WASHINGTON March 27 —Treasurer Spinner has not received any reply from Oakes Ames, to whom he forwarded $10 000 in bonds of Credit Mobilier which were turned over to him by Representative Kelley. The bonds were sent to him on the 10th instant, with a request that he would indorse them, in order that they might be turned into the Treasury. The question which naturally arises is: Does Ames intend to comply with General Spinner's request, or will he hold on to the bonds, which he repeatedly said belonged to Kelley?

Combination Broken.

NEW YORK, March 26 —The New York Shipping List to day editorially announces the rupture of the freighting combination between the Pacific Railroads and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. We congratulate our California friends on this result and believe it has taught parties in the interest of the combination the lesson that New York merchants will not submit to the dictation of outside railroad corporations

Oregon Railway Matters

NEW YORK, March 26 —Ben Holladay's friends treat with levity the Tribune's announcement that proceedings are to be instituted against him as President of the Oregon and California Railroad for alleged fraudulent representations in placing the Company's bonds. The Tribune says it is stated that the Oregon and California Railroad caused Drexel, Morgan & Co, of New York, and Salzbach Bros of Frankfort, Germany to negotiate $10 960 000 of its bonds at prices which netted the Company $6,500,000. President Holladay, it is further asserted took a contract from this Company to build the road at the rate of about $30,000 a mile on the proceeds of the sale of these bonds, portions of which (amounting to 240 miles) he built, leaving the most difficult and expensive part of the line unfinished. It is further asserted that the winter storms have damaged the road very much, and that the receipts have not equaled the amount required for interest. The bonds are quoted at 35 in the Berlin market and at a recent meeting of the bondholders a committee was appointed to begin proceedings against Holladay and Company to secure the land grant of 1 660 000 acres

The Brooklyn Murder Mystery

NEW YORK March 26 —The name of the woman who in all probability shot Charles Goodrich has been discovered but is withheld from publication. She lived in the third house from him, was his mistress, had given birth to a child and was deceived by him. She was in Brooklyn the night before the discovery of the murder, but has not since been seen. Wm B Goodrich offers $2,500 reward for the arrest of the murderer, payable on conviction. The father of the murdered man was to day awarded letters of administration upon the estate

Strikes

NEW YORK, March 27 —At a private meeting of gas men held here last night the 8 hour question was discussed. A strike will probably take place soon if the employers do not consent to that system. Gas men act independent of other organizations

CHICAGO March 27 —A New York special says a special meeting of the United Order of Masons was held last night in Donalt Hall to take action on the proposed strike. All trades were represented. The proceedings were very violent and disorderly. Incendiary speeches were made by prominent Internationalists denouncing Commodore Vanderbilt; one man wanted him hanged to a lamp post, and another said if there is any interference with hour rules the streets will run with the blood of capitalists. A committee was appointed to wait upon the Mayor and Common Council to demand the enforcement of the 8 hour law. Reporters were excluded. At midnight the meeting was still in session with a prospect of continuing till morning

McDonald, the Suspected Bank Robber

The counsel of Geo McDonald, charged with being concerned in the recent forgeries on the Bank of England, have taken action to test the legality of the appointment of Commissioner Gutman, before whom the case is under investigation, and will probably test the question by means of a habeas corpus and certiorari to the United States Circuit Court.

It was rumored early this morning that Dolan, who has been suspected of murdering Goodrich, had been arrested, but the police decline giving any information. It is remarkable that of the numerous mysterious murders in Brooklyn, reaching nearly eight within a few years, no clues have been ascertained of them of a satisfactory character

"Bully Brooks"

HOW HE WAS PUNISHED FOR THE ASSAULT ON SUMNER.

[From the Boston Commonwealth]

Nearly seventeen years have passed since this outrage, yet new facts connected with it are every now and then coming to light. A party of gentlemen were dining with James L Orr in Washington, just prior to his late departure to his foreign mission, when he incidentally spoke of the affair. He said he had heard of the intended assault, and meant to have prevented it by being in the Senate Chamber and arresting the blow. On his way thither he stopped in the library to look at a book, which, not being readily found, detained him a few minutes longer than he purposed, and during the delay the assault was made. Brooks confessed to him before his death that he never meant to have it so deadly as it was—intending only to "disgrace" the Senator with the South by a flagellation—and said he could not believe at first that Sumner was really hurt. He said, further, that he was tired of life and wanted to die. The notoriety he won was killing him by inches—every bully and blackguard in the South thrust his attentions and acquaintance upon him, and it was too terrible a punishment to bear. Orr said he had no doubt Brooks felt the keenest regret for his part in the affair, and that he was indeed tired of life.

The Paris correspondent of the San Francisco Call says that the Assembly is "saving at the spigot" by reducing the number of clerks in the various departments of the public service. He adds "Upward of nine of the removed clerks have committed suicide, whether in a transport of joy or sorrow is unknown." Concerning one of the most useless departments of the French Government, he says

That ancient edifice of Prefects and Sub-Prefects, has alike resisted the influence of time and the shocks of revolutions, and still blossoms like the rose. It is more an electoral than an administrative machine, and is the only institution Frenchmen unanimously condemn, and sacredly conserve. Taking the population at thirty-six millions, not including Prince Napoleon, the maintenance of Prefects costs nearly three sous per inhabitant, and some of the satraps reign over half a million of people, others not over one-half that number, and all next to uniformly, remunerated on the same scale. The Prefects are allowed a certain sum for office expenses, out of which they have pickings, the clerks are called Pariahs, and after 30 years of service can claim a pension of one half of the mean average of the last six years' salary, in case of death during receipt of pension, one-half of the latter is continued to the widow.

ACCEPTS —The Petaluma Argus of March 16th gives the annexed intelligence

This morning a dispatch was received from C Delano, Secretary of the Interior, by Dr. E Thomas of this city, informing him of his appointment to the Peace Commission to treat with the Modocs. He takes the place of Applegate, resigned. Dr Thomas is an old resident of California, and is widely known throughout the State as he has been almost constantly traveling through it for the last seventeen years, in the employ of the Methodist Church. How well Capt Jack, Scarfaced Charley and Shack Nasty Jim know him we are not aware. His appointment assures us that if the Commission now fails of securing peace, all will be satisfied that the Government has done its part towards the Modocs. The doctor leaves for the scene of operations to morrow.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1873

Railway Taxation.

Under the above heading the Independent, a journal which certainly cannot be considered as the organ of any faction in opposition to the railway interests of the country, has some pungent remarks backed up by facts and figures upon the manner in which the people of the Atlantic States are taxed for the support of railway companies. The enormous load which is saddled upon the public by the railway corporations is illustrated by the Independent by reference to actual statistics from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company's official reports. The total cost of this company's road was $63,299,921. This cost is however represented by bonds, certificates of indebtedness, etc., amounting to $107,921,319, of which $45,000,000 draws interest or dividends at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and the remainder at the rate of six and a half per cent. Of this indebtedness nearly half is held by the members of the corporation, and in fact represents no actual outlay of money. It is simply the inflation which the securities of the company have undergone in order to put money into the pockets of the managers. To meet the accruing demands on this bogus indebtedness, in addition to those on the legitimate cost of the road, freights are put up to figures that amount simply to extortion. The industries of the country are thus taxed to pay interest on nearly two dollars for every one dollar expended in the construction of the road. Such a state of affairs not only justifies the complaints of the people thus taxed to enrich the manipulators of the railway funds, but demands correction and redress at the hands of the National and State governments.

There is no room for a reasonable doubt that the condition of affairs thus brought to light by the Independent in regard to the management of the railway above mentioned, is equalled or surpassed in enormity by many other companies in the United States. Indeed, it is more the rule than the exception. The bare mention of the subject calls to every mind the scandalous management of the Erie company which breaks out into an open ulcer at short intervals, sending forth a stench that renders the name of America odiously odorous in all the financial circles of the civilized world. Ten times more infamous than the transactions set forth by the Independent were those of the Memphis and El Paso road. The Credit Mobilier investigations before the committees of the last Congress show the swindles on the Union Pacific to have exceeded fifty millions of dollars. Wherever an inquiry has been instituted the result has invariably been to bring to light a series of steals, of which the above are fair examples.

How stands the case with the Oregon and California Railroad Company? The dispatches of this morning suggest the answer. They state nothing, however, but what has been known here so far as the amount of bonds of this company is concerned. Here is a road that cost a trifle over $4,000,000, carrying a debt of $10,950,000, and all charged as cost of construction. Allowing an ample margin for the cost of placing the bonds, the sum represented by these bonds as the cost of construction must be fifty per cent. greater than the road actually cost. The balance of course is "Credit Mobilier" in some form. The enormous tariffs on freights have been considered necessary to pay the interest on these bonds at 7 per cent., which amounts to $766,500 a year. This amount of money must be paid by the people of Oregon every year as the interest on an enterprise that cost less than half the principal represented. In the face of facts like these, how can any person wonder at the hard times and the scarcity of money in the country?

Gov. Davis, of Texas, publishes some interesting facts concerning the material welfare of that State. His report fixes the assessed value of all property within the State at $220,570,524. The system of free schools generally in use throughout the Eastern States has been adopted, and its workings are highly satisfactory. There are 2,695 teachers in employment, and the number of pupils in attendance during the past two years is 127,672. Her school fund foots up $2,620,125. This does not include 2,763,072 acres of land set apart for the purpose of education. By special stipulation made when Texas was annexed to the United States, all the public land within her limits was given to the State, so that the United States has no ownership in any of the vast tracts which are so valuable for grazing and agricultural purposes. There are 1,078 miles of railway completed and in operation, 567 of which were built since 1871. Since the 1st day of January, 1872, the population of Texas has been increased by the addition of 91,600 immigrants, and the Governor believes that the tide of immigration now flowing to the borders of the State will increase the census roll at least 100,000 during 1873.

This showing is most encouraging to the people of Texas. The additional information that her finances are in a most encouraging condition, affords a magnificent prospect for the giant State.

The St. Paul Press says that the well known penchant of the Supreme Court of Illinois for interfering to grant new trials to convicted murderers has had a shocking result. The attorney of Driver, sentenced to be hanged next Friday, had applied to Judge McAllister, of the Supreme Court, for a stay of proceedings and a writ of supersedeas. On receiving the reply of Judge McAllister, the attorney never stopped to break the envelope, but supposing of course that the writ had been granted, informed his anxious client to that effect. On sending the package to the clerk of the Supreme Court it was found that for once the writ had been denied. The anguish and despair of the doomed murderer who relied so confidently upon the unhappy disposition of the court to favor criminals, may be imagined.

It is said that President Thiers is preparing his speeches for publication. M. Goschler—for 30 years his private Secretary, has died, and M. Thiers is compiling the volume without assistance. The historian and statesman has played a prominent part in the world's history during his three score years and ten, and his utterances on the gravest questions that have ever distracted fair France will be a work of vast interest.

In the Prussian Diet there is a bill pending which provides for the purchase by the Government of the railway lines of Germany. This subject of the national proprietorship of railways has forced itself upon the attention of European governments. It will be remembered that the subject of the purchase of all the leading railroads in Ireland by the English government has been before a committee of the Parliament for several months.

The Bulletin and its New Protege Cook up a Mess of Lies Together.

The Herald still appears as a Holladay organ and without any change of proprietorship, as far as one on the outside can see. It is still issued under the auspices of the same company. There is no announcement of a change of editors. It will doubtless be run in the interest of the railway ring hereafter, if it survive the financial embarrassments that have surrounded it for some time. The proprietors, in their card of Wednesday morning, disavowing the article in praise of Mr. Holladay, stated that the finances of the establishment were such as to compel its suspension. Yesterday's issue was brought out through the assistance of Mr. Henry L. Pittock, of the OREGONIAN, who kindly became surety to the Western Union Telegraph Company for the dispatches of the Herald.

A noticeable circumstance in connection with the troubles of the Herald is the tender affection with which the Bulletin has come to regard that paper since its change of heart on the question of the railway monopolist and his extortions. The Bulletin is delighted with the Herald now, and its immense resources of mendacity are exhausted in denouncing the OREGONIAN for mentioning the Herald's change of base in terms that were not complimentary. It attributes the Herald's financial troubles to malice on the part of the OREGONIAN, and devotes a large space to the most careful and skillful lying its adipose editor can do; and he is universally regarded where he is best known as a person who possesses extraordinary talents, both by nature and by cultivation, for falsifying. The Bulletin proceeds to sum up the matter in these words.

> The immediate cause of the calamity to the Herald was the execution of a judgment for debt by Henry L. Pittock of the OREGONIAN. The minions of the law were set on to crush this exponent of Democratic principles.
> Of course the last named paper manifests great anger toward the Herald for its expressions in regard to Holladay. Before noon on the very day on which the Herald had published the article so objectionable to the Oregonian the latter levied on the Herald's property and proceeded to close the concern out.

The Bulletin, in these extracts, by the suppression of important facts in the case, seeks to create an impression directly contrary to the truth. If words are signs of ideas—as the grammarians tell us—the statements of the Bulletin are deliberate falsehoods, for they are calculated and intended to convey ideas which the editor of the Bulletin is in a condition to know are wholly untrue. The facts are as follows. The Herald Printing Company had owed the Clackamas Paper Mills, which Mr. Pittock represents, a sum of money, for considerably over a year, for paper upon which the Herald was printed. Mr. Pittock had granted extensions of time at the request of the Company, and upon the promises of its managers that payment should be made, until there seemed to be no prospect of his ever getting the money. The reason assigned for the non-payment of the demand was, that by some agreement between different persons interested in the Herald establishment, this debt was to be paid by certain individuals and not by the corporation. The demand was at last placed in the hands of a collector and a judgment was obtained upon it. On last Monday, no levy having been made upon the judgment, Mr. A. B. Hallock, President of the Herald Company, came to the OREGONIAN office and requested Mr. Pittock to have the Sheriff levy upon the Herald office, saying he desired this to be done, for the purpose of compelling the performance of the contract between the Company and the other individuals above referred to. And upon this request the levy was made the next morning. This stamps the Bulletin's half truth as a whole lie of the basest sort.

Another fact which ought not to be overlooked while we are about the work of exposing the Bulletin's disingenuousness, is that at the time Mr. Pittock's levy was made, the President of the Bulletin Company was pushing to judgment, as rapidly as the course of law would permit, a demand larger than that of Mr. Pittock. Service was made upon the Herald Company on the demand held by the President of the Bulletin Company five days before Mr. Pittock's levy. Of course, it would have been a pleasant little thing for the Bulletin man, had Mr. Pittock stood out of the way a few days more and let the Herald establishment be taken to pay the other gentleman's demand. He did not do it, however, and the Bulletin has therefore a double grievance: A Holladay organ has been brought to grief, and the Bulletin failed to get ahead of the older creditor.

The Herald publishes the same lie that appears in the Bulletin, in an article said to have been written by H. W. Scott, associate editor of the Bulletin—Mr. Nowell, the editor of the Herald, fathering it, of course. Now, Mr. Nowell not only had full knowledge of the falsity of this story, but he had these additional reasons which would have prompted any honorable man to refrain from the publication of so base a lie: When the Herald office had been seized by the Sheriff, that officer declined to allow the type, press and materials to be used for bringing out the paper, unless the proprietors would give a forthcoming bond and release it from the levy. This they did not wish to do, and Mr. Pittock thereupon interceded with the officer in behalf of the proprietors, and finding the officer would not consent to the use of the materials, finally notified the officer that he himself would assume the risk of any loss that might occur if he would permit the paper to be issued. Under such circumstances appeared the Herald on Wednesday morning. Yesterday's paper was issued under similar auspices, and not alone that, but the dispatches that appeared in yesterday's issue of the Herald were obtained only after Mr. H. L. Pittock, at the solicitation of this man Nowell, had gone, at a late hour in the previous evening, to the telegraph office and became responsible to the Telegraph Company for the Herald's dispatches for the next morning. The dispatches that appeared in the very number of the Herald which contained the infamous slander upon Mr. Pittock could not have been obtained but for the assistance of that gentleman. The baseness of this man Nowell's selling himself to Holladay and the lies cooked up by him with Holladay's other editor, in order to mislead and deceive the public in the interest of their common master, stands out most revoltingly against this background of forbearance and kindness on the part of Mr. Pittock. It will be a long while before honest men will cease to point the finger at the person who could be guilty of such conduct, as a person to be suspected and shunned.

Now, how much interest, we should like to ask, would the Bulletin have manifested in this matter, if the Herald had maintained its honor on the railway question? Assuming it to be true that the OREGONIAN did wish to crush out a Democratic newspaper, what has prompted the Bulletin to take such a very human interest in the moribund organ of Democratic errors? Simply that the Democratic paper had formed an alliance with the Holladay ring, and might be depended upon in the future to assist the Bulletin in its efforts to forward the interests of the railway monopoly. This is a matter of greater moment to the Bulletin than political principle or personal integrity.

Mrs. Lyons wooed and won Wm. Brisbane, a gentle old man of three score years and ten. She was a doctress and had studied the corrosive properties of sulphuric acid with the diligence of a zealot. With timbrel and tin pan, with song and dance the festive youth of Hubbard, Trumbull county, Ohio, celebrated the nuptials of the doctress and the septuagenarian. Mrs. Brisbane had no ear for the fine harmonies of charivari, but she cloaked her awful wrath under the sweetest of smiles, and invited the serenading party to her door to receive money wherewith they might make merry in the grog-shops. These guileless youths drew near and received—not the money, but a gallon of sulphuric acid, taken from a galvanic battery near at hand. Here is a list of the parties affected: John Buke has lost one eye, and has a badly burned face; Frank Collar is burned badly on the face and head; Joseph Benjamin, a man about 10 years of age, who was passing by, received some of the liquid in his eyes. One eye is entirely destroyed and it is thought that he will lose the other. Wm. Cable is burned on the neck. A good portion of Silas Collar's clothing was completely burned off. The woman was arrested and taken before 'Squire King, of that village, who, after a hearing, placed her under $2,000 bonds to answer the court.

It is to be hoped that Mrs. Lyons' opportunities for slinging sulphuric acid at her future weddings will be summarily curtailed.

Our readers will remember the peculiar provisions of the will of Horace Hawes, of San Francisco, which was for so long a time in litigation. One of the remarkable clauses was to the effect that there should be placed above his grave a monumental slab of red granite whereon should be inscribed the epitaph: "Horace Hawes; born in Danby, State of New York, July 10, 1813, died in San Francisco, March 12, 1871. Erected by his wife, Caroline Hawes." The San Francisco Chronicle mentions the arrival of the block of highly polished granite from Aberdeen, Scotland. Above the inscription, will be placed a block of pure white marble bearing the words: "Author of the Consolidation Act and the Registry Law." That journal adds:

> "All of this work is in strict accordance with the provisions of the will, which further directs that the granite slab shall be replaced by a monument after a lapse of a hundred years."

San Francisco is sometimes known by the euphonious appellations of "The Bay City," "City of the Golden Gate," etc. The records of its Police Courts and the reports of vicious and disgraceful conduct which occupy the columns of some of the leading journals, would seem to assert its right to the less pleasant but more suggestive title of the hotbed of Hoodlumism. Here is an item from one of those papers. It is a fair sample of scores of others that appear every week:

> Yesterday afternoon a number of Chinese arrived on the steamer Alaska, from China. As they were being driven up town in express wagons, from the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's dock, they were pelted shamefully with stones by young hoodlums stationed on Second street, at the corner of Natoma, Minna and Mission streets. Some of the stones were described by an eye-witness as being as large as one's fist. Several times, when struck, the Chinamen shrieked, and many of them must have been badly bruised. Residents on Second street state that this occurs on the arrival of every steamer from China.

A Havana despatch of the 20th inst. says that the police of that city have arrested one Austin Byron Bidwell alias Warren, his wife, and Harry Nun, a servant. Bidwell is apprehended on a description forwarded from London, and is supposed to be the principal operator in the enormous frauds on the Bank of England. Travelling with an American passport, he went to Spain, where he embarked on a French steamer for Havana. Noyes, the prisoner now under arrest in London, as a confederate in the fraud, is said to have made a confession in which he charged Warren with being the instigator of the enormous villainy through which some of the oldest banking houses of the European continent were victimized.

The suit against the Traveler's Insurance Company, of Hartford, of which we made mention yesterday has been decided. As we have said, the party insured perished in a snow-storm on Mont Blanc, and the company refused payment on the ground that he died while on an exploring expedition, against which the policy made special provision. The suit was brought by the infant son of Mr. Bean, the deceased, and has been compromised by the payment of $3,500 and costs to the plaintiff. The policy was for $5,000.

The Bull's Head Bank of Boston is in a remarkable dilemma. Our dispatches, several days since, in mentioning the suspension of this institution, attributed the disaster to the defalcation of one of the officers. But now the officials say they are unable to learn who mutilated the books or who is the defaulter. This is a fearful state of affairs,—this quiet, unassuming ignorance. It is said the bank was a favorite place with butchers and drovers, of which fact the name may be symbolical.

Our morning dispatches say that the waters of eastern politics are greatly troubled just now in consequence of the failure of Oakes Ames to respond to the note of the Secretary of the Treasury accompanying certain shares of stock in Credit Mobilier, said to belong to one James D. Kelley, Congressman. The Treasurer wants those shares endorsed, that they may legitimately go into the Conscience Fund. Poor Ames! "Thus when I shun Scylla, your father, I fall into Charybdis, your mother."

The Colorado People says that the San Luis Park, which lies in the southern part of Colorado, embraces an area of nearly eighteen thousand miles, or about twice as much territory as the State of New Hampshire contains. Good sized Park, that.

The Postal Card System, which is soon to be introduced into the United States Postal service, has been in use in the governments of Switzerland, Russia, Belgium, England, Greece and Spain, in all of which countries it has given complete satisfaction.

San Francisco journals want us to believe that Foster, the car-hook murderer, formerly lived in that city, where he was engaged in driving a hack.

Samuel Bowles, editor of the Springfield Republican, is now in San Francisco.

POMEROY AND GARRETT DAVIS' DUBIOUS COMPLIMENT.—Forney's Chronicle gets off the following:

When, one day, weary of the cares of State, the Senator from Kentucky was snoozing in his chair, his name was called to vote. A neighbor punched his ribs and said, "Wake up, Mr. Davis, your name is called." Half unconsciously the Kentuckian rose and asked the Vice-President what they were voting on. The Vice-President explained that it was a railroad bill in Kansas. "Well," said Davis, in his shrill voice and pointed manner, "what I want to know before I vote is the amount of stealage in this bill?"

Whereupon the great and good Pomeroy arose, his face beaming all over with the smiles which only a clear conscience can produce, and said:

"If the Senator from Kentucky will permit me I will explain. I have thoroughly investigated the bill, sir, and I assure you if there is any stealing about it I cannot find it."

"All right, Mr. President," responded Senator Davis, "if the Senator from Kansas can't find any stealage, I'm satisfied there is none there."

TOO IMMORAL FOR GUAYAQUIL.—A French lyrical company recently performed "The Grande Duchesse" at a theatre in Guayaquil, Ecuador, recently. During the second act, when the Grand Duchesse shows herself familiar with Fritz, caressing his hair by passing her fingers through it, and other quite as innocent attentions, the chief authority of the city, who was present, immediately rose up in his seat, and ordered the piece to go no further as being insulting to the morality and dignity of the Guayaquil public.

BODY FOUND.—A gentleman writing from West port states that the body of an unknown man was found a few days ago by a Mr Dobey, in the Columbia river near the west shore of Puget Island. The following articles were found on the body. Part of a black and white plaid shirt, leather belt with copper rivets and brass buckle, gray woolen socks and a pair of No 5 boots Height, 5½ feet. The remains were so decomposed as to defy recognition. A jury was summoned by Justice David West to inquire into the cause of the man's death. The jury returned the following verdict

"We, the jury summoned to inquire into the causes which led to the death of the man whose body is now before us, find that he came to his death by drowning.

C A McGUIRE, Foreman
CHARLIE McCRIMMON,
WM WILSON,
N PETERSON,
JOHN STROM,
GEO. JOHNSON.

Should the above imperfect description lead to his identification, his place of burial can be found by making application at John West & Co's fishery, Westport.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.—The Sentinel says "The interesting and impressive ceremonies of the reception of the white vail by a young lady, took place at the chapel of St Mary's Academy in this city, last Thursday morning. The young lady who had resolved to abandon the world and devote herself to works of charity, is Miss Eliza Kennedy, of Marion county, Oregon, where her parents and relations reside. The ceremonies began at eight o'clock, A. M., when His Grace, Archbishop Blanchet, entered the chapel and began the impressive service, assisted by Rev Fathers Glorieux and Orth. Besides the above clergy, Very Rev. J. F Fierens, V. G., and Rev. P. McCormick were present in the sanctuary The Sisterhood of St. Mary Convent and a large number of people, among whom were some of the relatives of the fair novice, witnessed the reception."

CAPSIZED.—During the prevalence of a gale on the Columbia, last Wednesday evening, the clipper ship Fleetwing, Capt. Jas Troup, was capsized opposite Vancouver. She was endeavoring to tack, when a flaw suddenly struck her and over she went in an instant. One thousand pounds of ballast was in the bottom of the little craft, besides five persons. The crew, consisting of five persons, were thrown into the water, but succeeded in clinging to the rigging, and, as soon as circumstances would permit, crawled up and seated themselves on the weather side of the craft until a boat was sent off from the shore. After a little delay the ship was righted and the Captain and crew sailed into port, the ship sustaining no other damage than her jib being carried away, which was caused by the Minnehaha trying to succor them.

HEARD FROM.—Mr O. S. Phelps received a letter a few days ago from Capt. Noyes, of the bark Garibaldi. The letter is dated Whampoa, February 10th. The Garibaldi may be expected to arrive here some time in May. The vessel is under charter for Portland. One thousand dollars more is offered for the charter than was on the last voyage. At the time the letter was written, the Garibaldi had nearly completed the repairs which were being made. On arriving at Whampoa the bottom was found to be barnacled, and she was taken at once into the dry dock, and new copper put on. The English bark Forward, Capt. Whyte, and a French schooner, were both at Whampoa, under charter for Portland, and can be expected to arrive here about the latter part of spring.

DOWN THE COLUMBIA.—The bark Genevie is below Astoria. She will pass out to sea probably on Monday.

The tug Astoria took the schooners Parallel and Marietta to sea yesterday.

Two vessels—a bark, supposed to be the Whistler, and a schooner—are reported off the bar.

The steamer Oriflamme passed out to sea on Thursday forenoon.

When the Dixie Thompson left Astoria yesterday a severe gale was blowing and the bar was rough.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.—The funeral of the late Mrs. O. F. Stewart, the well known actress, took place from the Advent Church, San Francisco, on the 21st inst. A large number of professional actors and actresses attended the funeral. The pall bearers were John McCullough, Henry Edwards, Wm Barry, W. A. Mestayer and Walter Leman.

BARKENTINE WEBFOOT.—This vessel arrived here on Wednesday night from Astoria, with a full assorted cargo. The Webfoot crossed the bar several days ago, but was detained some time in the river by head winds. She brings about 300 tons of freight, which is being discharged at Flanders' wharf.

CARL BOSCO'S SECOND ENTERTAINMENT.—This evening, the great illusionist will present for the first time to a Portland public the greatest mystery of the age—a living head without a body The wonderful Spiritual Cabinet will also be displayed.

LOAD OF LUMBER.—The steamer Mary Bell arrived at Vancouver yesterday with a full cargo of lumber from St. Helens. The lumber will be used in buildings at the former place

NEXT STEAMER.—The next steamer for this port will be the Ajax which will probably sail tomorrow for this port. She is advertised to sail hence on next Friday, April 4th.

RETURN OF THE LINCOLN.

ARRIVAL OF THE REVENUE STEAMER LINCOLN—THE OPINION OF COMMANDER STANLEY.

From the Port Townsend Argus we obtain the following concerning the steamer Geo. S. Wright:

The U S. Revenue steamer Lincoln, Captain Bailey, arrived from the north, whither she had been searching for survivors of the steamer Geo S. Wright, on Sunday afternoon.

Capt. Bailey reports being at Cape Caution on the 9th, but was unable to land on account of bad weather. Spoke H B. M. ship Petrel (which had been there and in Smith's Inlet two days) off the Cape. The Petrel had spoken and examined all the Indians in the vicinity, and ascertained beyond a doubt that no person had landed thereabouts from the wreck of the Wright. The shore of Cape Caution was approached as near as the heavy seas would permit, but no sign of the wreck was seen. It had probably been broken up by the wind and breakers which dash against the exposed rocky coast with pitiless force. After becoming satisfied he could render no assistance, and the weather being exceedingly stormy, the Lincoln's head was turned southward.

The following statement and opinion were furnished to Capt. Bailey by Commander Stanley, of H. B. M. ship Petrel:

AT NANAIMO, March 15th, 1873.

Sir Having visited the coast in the vicinity of Cape Caution and the neighboring Indian villages in Smith's Sound with the view of ascertaining whether any persons had landed from the wreck of the Geo. S Wright, and if so what treatment they had received, I beg to inform you that, judging by what I heard from and saw of the only Indian tribe at all near the place, I am of opinion that no human being escaped from the ill fated vessel, and that no bodies were washed ashore upon that part of the coast.

Being informed by the Indians that the portion of wreck found had been washed ashore in Blunden Bay, just north of Cape Caution, I stood as close in to that place as the state of the weather would admit, but failed, after a careful scrutiny, to distinguish anything Hoping that the weather would clear up so as to admit of our landing at this place and examine the beach, I remained two days in Takush Harbor, but, the weather coming on bad again, was forced to give up all idea of obtaining my purpose

The only Indians near Cape Caution are a small tribe of forty or fifty, and they appear to me not the kind of people to commit murder,—being a quiet, inoffensive and wretchedly poor tribe Captain Spaulding, the Magistrate who accompanied me, closely interrogated these people, from which it transpired that only one of their number had visited the scene of the wreck, and that the only articles which he brought away and which he showed us, were some pieces of painted boards, some strips of painted canvas, and a piece of a life belt,—the brass portion.

The village is fully ten miles from Blunden Bay, and the Indians said that the weather had been so bad for a long time that, with the exception of this man, no one had ventured outside in a canoe, and that there is no means of getting to the place by land.

My opinion is that the George S Wright foundered on one of the numerous rocks that fringe the coast, and that, as the cold has been very severe, and gales constantly blowing, no one reached the shore alive.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,
C. BLAUNE STANLEY,
Commander.

THE HAMER PROCESS.

PORTLAND, March 27, 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

I see by your report of the Council proceedings, that at the last meeting an ordinance was introduced providing that hereafter the wood to be used in street improvements be prepared by the Hamer process, at a cost not exceeding seventy five cents per square yard I am afraid there is a mammoth rodent about somewhere I feel him in the air. Our plank roadways now only cost sixty cents per square yard. They are cheap, and last till they wear out—wearing out before they rot. The Hamer process don't prevent their wear If adopted, the cost of roadway would be more than twice what it is now, which the property-owners would have to pay, and which the persons owning the right of using the Hamer humbug would pocket, of course, as clear profit. I hope that there is not one single member of the City Council that will vote for such a scandalous job as that which I believe is involved in that ordinance

DAISY AINSWORTH.

The new stern-wheel steamer, Daisy Ainsworth, belonging to the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, on the ways at the Dalles, is rapidly approaching completion under the superintendence of Mr John Holland, Chief Builder for the Company. The keel for this splendid steamer was laid early last fall, and the work has been going on at intervals ever since. The boat could have been finished months ago, but the Company concluded not to launch her until the high waters of May or June would float her clear of the ways. This being the determination, there has been no undue haste with the builder to have the boat completed before the latter part of the spring By reason of this, an extra degree of care and skill has been expended to make the new steamer superior in accommodations, and in the essentials of power and speed, to any other craft now owned by the company. The hull was completed by or before the middle of last winter In order to have everything in readiness, a large force of carpenters were employed in February to begin the upper works Two weeks work will suffice to complete the large and elegant cabin. Mr Holland came down on Wednesday to procure a quantity of moulding, etc, which is necessary to add the finishing touches to the upper works of the steamer He returned yesterday to the Dalles. The dimensions of the Daisy Ainsworth are Length of keel, 175 feet, beam, 28 feet hold, 7 feet and 8 inches. The entire length over all is 203 feet and 10 inches The length of the cabin is 136 feet Height of the boiler deck 11 feet in the clear, and of the upper or second, 8 feet in the clear. The cabin contains 12 state rooms, each 6x8 feet, and more than double that number of berths In the rear portion of the cabin there are several staterooms set apart for the use of the officers and deck hands The ladies cabin, saloon and dining room will be elegantly finished and furnished, grained inside and out. Frosted glass will be used in the doors and numerous windows. The office, bar and pantry will be in the forward part of the cabin A broad guard extends all around the cabin, affording ample room for promenaders, while a large open space is left just forward of the wheel house, provided with seats, where passengers can sit during pleasant weather and enjoy the breeze and scenery The style of the hull is fashioned after the most approved model, and will be propelled by very powerful machinery. The boiler is 28 feet long, and 5 feet and 5 inches in diameter, perforated with 175 tubes, 22 feet long. The engines, two in number, are 7 feet stroke and 20 inches bore, with a working capacity of nearly 300 horse power The wheel, to propel the steamer, is 21 feet in diameter, and 15 feet long. There are about 20 buckets, each one 21 inches broad. The wheel will be housed in after the manner of the Emma Hayward. The new engines will be forwarded to the Dalles today, and are to be put in running condition as soon as possible. It is estimated that the boiler will be able to carry with perfect safety 145 pounds of steam to the square inch, which, when taken in conjunction with the dimensions of the engines, will give the new boat a greater power than any of the river steamers now plying on the Wallamet or Columbia rivers The only work which now remains to be finished before the boat is ready to take the water, will be the putting down of the cylinders and the completion of the ornamental portions of the cabin Within five weeks' time the Daisy Ainsworth will be ready to make the trial trip, unless the river should rise before that time and float her off This handsome and commodious steamer was built expressly to run between the Dalles and Upper Cascades. When completed, she will be the river queen of the line owned by the O S N. Co She will reflect lasting credit on the builder, Mr Holland, and be a monument to the enterprise and energy of the company

MATTERS OF FASHION.

Glass neckties are the latest.

Blue silk shades with a monogram in lace applique are the last extravagance

Handsome jardinieres full of evergreens, decorate residences.

New satin jeans are very delicate in colors and have scattered over their surface the new polka moon-like dot.

The prettiest chatelaine vinaigrettes worn are made in silver on the model of antique vases. They cost from thirty to fifty dollars.

Irish poplin costumes will retain their popularity among fashionable ladies. They (the poplins) are always pretty, stylish and genteel.

The materials composing the spring hats are quite new and pretty. Swiss Tuscan lace and Swiss brilliant lace, and Paille de Ritz in a variety of shapes and colors.

Massive chains for the throat, of dead gold, are so fashionable that the imitation, at a mere nominal price, and so excellent as to defy detection, outrivals the pure gold.

The new parlor decorations, rustic work bird cages, are not a success. They are so very dark that the birds labor under the delusion that it is always night, perpetually sleep, and cannot be induced to sing a note.

People having come to the conclusion that linen, although a very good thing in the way of table cloths, is not exactly adapted to purposes of respiration, crash floor-cloths are hereafter to be banished from dancing parties.

The newest French and English calicoes are of white, olive and pale buff grounds, upon these are stripes in colors, and on the white between the stripes are gorgeous little plain leaves and dainty buds. Others are adorned with quaint Chinese figures and people, and graceful little sprays and ferns.

The charming dainty laces worn about the neck the fluted frills and ruffles have brought about an immense peculiarity in cameos, lockets set with precious stones, and Roman gold in neck chains. The fashion of painting in jewelry has never before reached so great a height since the days of Louis XVI., Louis XV., and Louis XIV., when it was carried to excess.

Hints and whispers reach us mingled with a host of historical associations and absurd souvenirs of dress such as belong to the last century—skirts so narrow and tight as one can inconveniently walk in, pyramidal coiffures, huge buttons, high pointed heels, hair arranged in the highest possible coque, bonnets yet higher, without crinoline, without torture, without pannier.

LONGEVITY OF SOME ANIMALS.—Among other spoils which Alexander the Great took from Porus, an Indian king, was a monster elephant. These animals were then, as now, held in the highest esteem in that country That particular elephant fought so bravely for his master that the admiration of the conqueror was excited in his favor. He ordered him to be set free, and, allowed him to range at pleasure, first naming him Ajax, and placing a medal securely to his neck, bearing this inscription: "Alexander, son of Jupiter, dedicated Ajax to the Sun."

Three hundred and fifty-four years after the old fellow was so discovered, and probably in good condition, as nothing was recorded to the contrary. Therefore, it is probable that elephants may live several centuries before the machinery of life gives out.

Cuvier, the great French naturalist, saw no reason why whales should not reach a thousand years. An eagle died at Vienna that was known to be 104 years old. Ravens have been active at 100 years. A skeleton of a swan is in possession of an English gentleman, that died when 290 years of age. Tortoises have been repeatedly found with dates cut on their shells by ancient hunters, showing they were over one hundred, and yet were crawling on vigorously with new markings into a second century

Scientists cannot fathom this law of vitality. There is a life period to most of the animals very satisfactorily determined, but how long a man might live is still unknown. No death probably occurs in which the individual falls short of a hundred years that was not referable to a violation of some law of nature Hopeland was fully persuaded the life limitation of a man was not less than two hundred years

CHINA AND JAPAN

From the latest San Francisco exchanges we compile the following items of news from China and Japan

[From the China Overland Mail.]

The steamer Thales brings the sad news of the wreck of the celebrated tea clipper Serica in the vicinity of the Paracelles. One of the survivors arrived at Touron in a Chinese junk, and reported the loss The following statement by Captain Hagemann, of the Johann Smidt, has kindly been placed at our disposal by Messrs. Boursau & Co.

"Two days before my departure from Touron, I was told by an Anamite that there was a European on shore in the house of the first Mandarin. I went there, and found a man who said that he was a sailor named (name not intelligible) He had been boatswain on board the British ship Serica. The Serica had left Hongkong on a Saturday morning, bound to Montevideo, and already the following evening between seven and eight o'clock, struck on a reef, which, as the Captain afterwards said, were the north shoals of the Paracelles. It being very stormy, masts, boats and deck houses were swept away by the sea, the crew made a raft, provided themselves with some provisions, and left the ship. The crew consisted of twenty eight hands. The Captain died after four days, and eight men died a few day later. On the eighth day water and all provisions were finished. During the 10th night the raft was smashed on a rock, whereby the remaining crew, except one of them, were drowned.

The British brig Bessie Seawright, from Shanghai to Nagasaki, has foundered at sea, all hands saved

A large fire occurred at Canton on the 31st of January, part of the bridge connecting Shameen with the suburbs was destroyed.

The Russian ships Svetlana and Vitiaz, with the Grand Duke Alexis on board the former, left on the 28th of January.

Great apprehensions are entertained of a Mahommedan invasion in North China.

The Tientsin Arsenal is said to be remarkably active. A new Chinese Admiral has been appointed at Amoy. He is a most determined man, and has done much good by visiting the points under his jurisdiction in disguise, redressing grievances and punishing malefactors a la Haroun Arraschid.

The submarine cables between Hongkong, Shanghai and Nagasaki are not yet repaired. The winter in the north has been extremely mild.

The Grand Lama of Thibet has dispatched a mission to Pekin, proffering allegiance to the young Emperor.

An edict has been issued against poppy growing in Kansuh and Shensi.

Attempts are to be made to make the Yellow river resume its old channel.

Japan.

The following summary is from the Japan Gazette of February 22d:

Christianity is now tolerated in Japan. The edict, we believe, was promulgated two days ago, and is at once the law of the land. This will show more than anything else that has been done by the Government that it is really and truly the sincere desire of the Mikado and his advisors to advance the enlightenment of the people, and to perfect their freedom to the utmost.

It is under consideration, but is not yet actually decided upon, for the Mikado to send an embassy to the Pope.

It has been determined to throw the whole country open to foreigners, provided all who travel in the interior submit to be controlled by the laws of Japan. The Government is assiduously endeavoring to perfect a code of laws, based upon the European models, suitable to this country, and if this be accomplished, we think their proviso is very reasonable

It is designed by the Government to hold a Universal Exposition in Japan in four years from this time As yet we are not clear whether it is to be in Kioto or Yeddo, but we believe the latter. Commissioners have been appointed in connection with the Vienna Exhibition, whose special duty it is to study the exact way of carrying out such a scheme in the best manner possible; and the Government is quite prepared to make it a creditable and thoroughly national and international affair.

The police system now being extended throughout the whole empire seems to be very popular. The country newspapers mention, from time to time, the names of merchants, ex-officers, etc., who have voluntarily subscribed sums of from 25 to 2,500 yens for the support of these guardians of the public security.

On Tuesday, the 27th of January, a large fire broke out at Yeddo, about midway between Mitsui's Bank and Asakusa, which swept off about 400 houses before it was checked. Had more of efficient engines been at hand, much of the burnt property might have been saved.

The law against smoking in the streets, which has been recently promulgated—apparently in imitation of the Russian ukase—appears to be vigorously enforced in the interior, and the authorities seem not unwilling to endeavor to extend its operations to foreigners. At Awa, a foreigner engaged by the Ken was called upon by the authorities, informed of the edict, and requested when he went for a ramble to keep his cigar unlit until he got outside the town.

The Laws of Health.

It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health If the great law of self preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter There is scarcely an adult member of the community, of either sex, in this country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature, art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most specific terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable anti bilious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good acclimating medicine, strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person who, either by reason of inherent debility or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of losing the greatest of all temporal blessings, health, the importance of using the Bitters as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies, It is guaranteed to cure indigestion in all its forms, and the bilious and nervous will find nothing in the whole range of official and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

A Righteous Execration

The following from the New York Times Washington correspondent, on the subject of the Congressional grab out of the public, is as just as it is neat:

Now allow me to pay a tribute of respect and admiration to the memory of our departed Congress, for its splendid coup de main, or the startling trick of legerdemain with which it turned the tables on the troublesome reformers and pestilent moralists, and under the cover of the confusion and hurry of the last hours of legislation, clutched and confiscated as back pay hundreds of dollars earned by hard working men and women, who little knew, as they honestly paid in their taxes, "to what base uses they would come at last." This is what you get by your civil service reforms and your investigations! You might have known that if you cut Congress off from the privilege of peddling Government offices, if you scared from the lobbies contractors, patentees, and railroad managers, they would make up for the loss and take a manly revenge some way—and they have chosen the most objectionable, shameless, disheartening, and demoralizing way possible, by passing this retroactive salary bill, this lawless ex post facto law. The hapless harassed flock of Credit Mobilier victims may rejoice and be exceeding glad, Oakes Ames may cease to weep, and James Brooks may get well, and Harlan may sing a hymn and Colfax may smile again, for their little unpleasant affair will be forgotten, quite thrown into the shade, by this new crime against justice and decency, this insolent exhibition of rapacity on the part of the very men who so lately sat in judgment on them. As for the minority, it seems to me no honest man can respect them much more than the majority, unless they utterly refuse to receive their share of the plunder. "The partaker is as bad as the thief," and this money does not belong to them. It belongs to poor orphan children, whose cry has come up before them in vain—to poor women, whom they have refused session after session, the pitiful advance in salary they have so patiently petitioned for—to poor clerks, underpaid drudges of Government, whom they have driven and burdened with their work year after year.

There was little hearty, earnest opposition in the House. Congressmen, after all, are only human, and the devil was busy jingling coin, or rustling Treasury notes in their ears. The best backbone gave way before the gusty vehemence and bullying persistence of Butler, through Mr. Blaine stood out grandly and by his action showed himself both high minded and long-headed, and Farnsworth spoke some brave, indignant words of protest, which if clinched by a refusal like Mr Blaine's, to take the back salary, would lead me to say of him that "naught in his Congressional life became him like the leaving of it." It was a grand opportunity to be virtuous and politic at the same time. Why did not more of them see it? In the Senate some of the men we securely counted on to defeat the iniquitous proposition seemed rather reluctant than resolute. They let "I dare not wait upon I would," declining and deprecating with the sly coyness of Juliet's nurse in refusing Romeo's bribe: "Not a penny! Not a penny!" all the while her greedy old hand held back for the purse. Chandler, Cragin, Thurman, Morrill, and that faithful, honest watch dog of the Senate, Edmunds, did themselves credit, but not one of them made the powerful, withering speech we hoped for, and Logan was allowed to cross examine the rich Senators like an investigating Communist, and Tipton to joke like the political Sancho Panza he is, and Carpenter to hammer at small social ambition, conceit, envy, and cupidity, striking the nail on the head every time, and Flanagan, the male Scheherezade of the Senate, to beguile with marvelous stories and lull the moral sense of his sleepy hearers, and so the deed was done.

Some Congressmen doubtless earn more than they receive, and should be paid more for future, not past services. I should like to see the Senators and members classified and their salaries graded according to ability, intelligence and the amount of service performed. Of course a competitive catechising would be necessary, and even Mr Logan and Mr Flanagan would be obliged to submit to the same strict examination in, say, English grammar and composition, that the poor girl who aspires out of her sphere to a $900 clerkship has to undergo. I think Government would save money by this system. This salary bill was a clear case of bribery. The in staying Congressmen knew they could not pass the act without the help of the out going, and so called them up to the United States Treasury as a great grab bag, saying, Help yourselves! Let all help ourselves for nothing! All the time they were voting on this infamous act an excited crowd of witnesses, men whom we took for tradesmen, tailors, boot-makers, and livery keepers, pale women, who looked like boarding house keepers, dress-makers, and laundresses, surged back and forth from House to Senate. Their anxiety was touching, and I would have been more reconciled to the measure on their account could I feel assured that out of some of the grabs they would be paid. Perhaps some of the Congressmen had in their minds those little outstanding accounts when they voted that night. If so, probably the recording angel dropped a small tear on the record.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS

By the H[illegible] which arrived at New York from Aspinwall on the 19th inst we have the following advices from Central and South America:

[illegible] telegram published at [illegible] a locomotive with [illegible] were passing [illegible] were precipitated into the river and [illegible]

[illegible] January 24th [illegible] Don [illegible] The bridge of [illegible] gave way with five [illegible] The locomotive [illegible] north side [illegible] The river has carried away the wooden bridge of Yopan.

[illegible]

One of the Superintendents of the [illegible] railroad sent to Mollendo an account of the catastrophe of the bridge of Lalpay on the 21st ultimo, from which it appears that a locomotive and five cars were passing the bridge at a slow rate when the bridge gave way and the four cars fell into the river. They were loaded with rails and other cargo weighing in all about sixty tons. The train had been accustomed to pass over the bridge every day for two weeks back at the rate of four miles an hour without anything being noted, though afterwards on inspecting the supports of the bridge below some lateral movement was observed when the weight of the train was on it. Some persons had fallen into the river had been carried away by the current, but only three of them were drowned. Others received slight wounds and Allen the Superintendent received a fracture.

The killing of Colonels Lamie and Zevallos has caused great excitement at Lima.

The band of counterfeiters that have long plied their avocation with detriment in the Isthmus have been arrested and are in jail.

Unusually strong gales and a heavy sea have prevailed for some weeks back along the Atlantic seaboard of Columbia. It has consequently been found exceedingly difficult to embark cargoes at Santa Martha, Carthagena and other ports within range of this strong influence.

In consequence of the yellow fever at Panama, which, however, is declared not to be infectious, all vessels from the Isthmus are quarantined on arriving at Guayaquil.

The newly appointed United States Consul for Aspinwall, T S Thornton, arrived there on the 28th ult and entered at once on his official duties.

A Nicaragua paper of the 22d February says the practicability of a ship canal through Nicaragua has been settled by the labors of the present United States surveying party. The differences of levels between Lake Managua and the large lake of Nicaragua have been determined to be but 22 to 100 feet American and 24 1-10 feet Spanish measure.

The Tertulia of February 6th puts its columns in mourning on account of the Chamber of Deputies having decided by a vote of 10 against 5 to allow the Jesuit Fathers to remain in the Republic.

Earthquake shocks continue to be felt in the city of St Vicente. The greater part of the houses in the valley of Sonipo are uninhabitable.

HOW THE BISON ARE SLAUGHTERED.—From the Denver News, January 19th, we clip the following: The station of Dodge City, on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, is the principal point of shipment of the buffalo meat and hides in Kansas. They do very little there besides outfit hunters, barter and quarrel over their game, extinguish disputes and disputers at the point of arms and have lively times generally. The arithmetic of the extinction of the bison of the plains is terrible, and if the statistics be right, it would seem that the flush times in meat and hides cannot last long. The railroad reached Dodge on the 23d of last September, and since that time 13,029 hides have been shipped, and in the same brief season 1,436 290 pounds of buffalo meat. Each hide counts a buffalo slain, and 43,000 hides in three months convey an idea of magnificent butchery that forecasts the speedy extinction of the prairie denizens. The buffalo that are killed in summer or early autumn in wanton cruelty, miscalled sport, and for food, by the frontier residents are not taken into this account.

The greater portion of this meat has been shipped to Kansas City, St Louis, Chicago and other Eastern cities. The above figures, though indicating an immense slaughter, do not represent the total of this season's hunt. The grand total for the season of 1872-3 around Dodge, will probably reach 100 000 head.

The Chicago Times was not pleased with Stanley. It says: His demeanor is that of a French cavalry officer crossed with a strong vein of the buffoon, and the tout ensemble is a blatherskite. He has been called an impostor, a cheat, a swindle, and even a murderer, but so long as he could look at that snuff box he was satisfied that he was the discoverer of Livingstone. This was given in an over wrought manner and so disgusted the larger portion of his audience that it was a general remark that while there seemed to be good proof that Stanley discovered Livingstone, they would like some proof that the mountebank before them was Henry M Stanley.

There seems to be a rather better state of feeling in our local money market and the discouraging circumstances which have attended general business in our midst during the past few months are wearing away gradually. Our specie exports this spring have according to the reports of our merchants and others been rather in excess of those of former years for a corresponding period. But it is claimed that the bulk of the coin used for this purpose is [illegible] and that hereafter the supply [illegible] will more generally flow into the ordinary channels of business at home. At present the city banks are supplying their regular customers only with accommodations at the ordinary rates. Discounts on the street and street loans are still affected at high rates, in many cases ranging, we learn, from 1 8 10 to 2½ per cent. Such a state of monetary matters is certainly not indicative of a healthy state of commerce and the question of the day now is where will [illegible]. We shall await the development of the next few months with interest, believing that a turning point in our commercial history is at hand. Had we the facilities at a reasonable rate for transporting our surplus products to the markets, [illegible] the present prospects for cheap inland transportation would justify the belief that that point would be one [illegible] which the tide of prosperity would flow in our favor and we would witness the growth and advancement of our young State in all the essential elements of a thriving commercial and agricultural community.

Dry Goods Market

Most of our dry goods [illegible] are now well supplied with good and fine stocks of goods and additions [illegible] being made by the arrival of steamers and sail vessels so that by the time the spring trade is fairly [illegible] still [illegible] there will be in excess of any former year in our history. Trade during the week has been very [illegible] little activity outside of orders from the [illegible] coming in a little more [illegible] are [illegible] last spring and summer [illegible] classes of goods the figures have been slightly advanced. The [illegible] of a season [illegible] at least average [illegible] the city is generally thought by our merchants to be fair.

Groceries

The trade is supplied with average stocks, and owing to the fact of a late advance in some staples there seems to be but little encouragement to increase stocks until [illegible] rather large lots, which were carried over through the past winter [illegible] Coffees are firm and in demand; sugars somewhat stronger, with a fair supply at current rates. Teas are quiet but steady. Spices of all kinds rule steady and appear to be in a somewhat diminished supply. The week's business has been quite fair, everything considered, and dealers feel satisfied with the outlook for the season.

DR. C G GLASS

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they are dragged until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and their places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary: one of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

ADVERTISING

Has created many a new business;

Has enlarged many an old business;

Has revived many a dull business;

Has rescued many a lost business;

Has saved many a failing business;

Has preserved many a large business;

And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.
